STANDARD: Written policy, procedure and practice require all Community Supervision Agencies to ensure that Community Supervision Officers are knowledgeable concerning supervision violations, sanctions and timely response.

I. VIOLATIONS: All violations shall be addressed with the juvenile. The Community Supervision Officer shall determine supervision options, possible sanctions, and if necessary notify the court of the violation.

A. MINOR VIOLATIONS – Can usually be resolved by the Community Supervision Officer. Examples of minor violations include, but are not limited to:

- Whereabouts known but not reporting;
- Failure to pay restitution/court costs within a prescribed period of time;
- Moving without notification within local jurisdiction;
- Initial violations of conditions of supervision; and
- Positive substance abuse screen or admission of usage.

B. MAJOR VIOLATIONS – All major violations should be brought to the attention of the Community Supervision Agency Supervisor to determine supervision options and the need to notify the court of the violation. Examples of major violations include, but are not limited to:

- New crimes, felony or misdemeanor;
- Unsuccessful discharge from placement, including absconding;
- Persistent failure or refusal to comply with supervision conditions;
- Whereabouts unknown for any period of time; and
- Any combination of minor violations that may be indicative of renewed criminal activity.

II. SANCTIONS: Sanctions for violations include, but are not limited to:

- Early Curfew;
- Increased face-to-face contacts with the Community Supervision Officer;
- Additional community service work;
